We will now ask you for your feelings about some people and groups using a “feeling thermometer.” Ratings between 50 degrees and 100 degrees mean that you feel favorable and warm toward the item. Ratings between 1 degrees and 50 degrees mean that you don't feel favorable toward the item and that you don't care too much for that item. You would rate the item at the 50 degree mark if you don't feel particularly warm or cold toward the person. 1 is the coldest possible rating. 100 is the warmest possible rating.

Researchers have been hired to consult with a nearby state's welfare agency. Below you will find two applicants for government assistance. The application information has been redacted to hide information that may identify individual applicants.

Each applicant has a state-assessed level of need of $900 per month. Your task is to allocate $1,500 between the two applicants. You can allocate any amount between $0 and $900 to each applicant. Any remaining funds will be used to offset the state's budget deficit. Please read the following applications. Once you have read the applications we will ask you to allocate funds on the following page. ~~Please enter three numbers below:~~
